

BEAR TRACKS MORNING PROGRAM NEWS

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY NURSERY SCHOOL (WUNS)

Bear Trackers who attend the morning program had the chance to tag along with Big Bears on two field trips recently. One was to the Kemper Art Museum, where children received a guided tour of several pieces of artwork. Bear Trackers had the chance to make their own art, inspired by the pieces they visited. The newly expanded museum is something to see--we are lucky that it is just a short walk away from WUNS.

The other field trip was to New City School, where we rode a bus to see a musical event, "Tunes and Tales." Ms. Heidi, New City School's preschool and music teacher, entertained the audience with songs and stories.

When back in the classroom, the children continue to enjoy playing with the prop boxes, with the ever-popular and amazingly scented play-doh, and with each other. Outdoor fun is enjoyed with the Big Bear and Teddy Bear classes.

Until next time,
Ms. Colleen
